In 1957 Mrs. Joseph B. Cumming organized a select committee of women in the Augusta community to endorse and advocate for a group of volunteer musicians playing together at that time as the Augusta Civic Orchestra. The committee of twelve forward-thinking women, including Mrs. Cumming, Mrs. Albert Lehmann, Mrs. Leland Stoddard, and Mrs. Julian Willingham, organized the first Augusta Symphony Guild and began their mission of promoting the Orchestra, encouraging attendance, and providing financial support. The Guild adopted as its purpose “support of the orchestra and all its activities, especially those of creating public interest in its concerts and establishing a permanent orchestra for Augusta.” Mrs. Cumming was elected the first president of the Guild and established a board of directors. On May 23, 1958, Mrs. Cumming and the Guild members, with the assistance of Mrs. George Barrett, president of the Sand Hills Garden Club, held a beautiful “Waltz Night” garden party with Viennese waltzes and dancing. The soiree successfully highlighted the Augusta Civic Orchestra and was made an annual event. In 1961 the Orchestra was incorporated and its name changed to “The Augusta Symphony Orchestra.”

In 1963, the Guild expanded the idea of “Waltz Night” and held the first Cotillion under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Mason. Ten lovely women were presented to family and friends at the Old Richmond Hotel. In planning for the event, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Ernest Briscoe Merry, and her son, Briscoe Merry, an art student, designed a crest to embody the purpose and spirit of the Cotillion. The Crest is the Augusta Cotillion’s unique coat of arms. The harp is the universal symbol of music. The fleur-de-lis is a heraldic emblem of royalty representing the Symphony as a regal form of music. The separate image of the knight depicts the Symphony League, the rose symbolizes the Guild, and the swan represents the beauty and grace of the Debutantes. The crest represents the unified advocacy of these three groups for the Symphony.

The “Waltz Night” tradition continues today and is presented as the Augusta Symphony Guild Cotillion. The Cotillion provides an opportunity for our community to celebrate the defining role of the Augusta Symphony Orchestra in our community’s cultural history and heritage and to continue the rich Southern tradition of presenting outstanding young women as debutantes in our community.
